

Media Release

26 May 2009

'Lights Camera Action'

New TV Show to come from Sandhurst Club

A new television lifestyle program 'Older Wiser - Feeling Younger' which explores all the fun and opportunities that life has to offer for Baby Boomers will be hosted from the multi award winning suburb of Sandhurst developed by Links Living Limited in the City of Frankston .

Anthony Abicair, Executive Producer of the program said, Sandhurst Club, with its lifestyle environment, provides a perfect backdrop for the show that provides financial advice, travel experiences, and information on relationships and health issues.

"Comprising ten weekly 30 minute episodes, focusing on issues such as looking, feeling, staying younger longer, Sandhurst Club with all of its lifestyle facilities such as the golf course, gymnasium, swimming pool, and tennis courts provides us with a wide range of subject areas in a spectacular visual environment.

"The show also covers lifestyle options will investigate how we live, where we live, and our day to day interests exploring various accommodation options, whether you are thinking of downsizing or needing to accommodate older parents. We will also visit restaurants, talk about movies, music and cars.

"Funding for retirement, superannuation, the money market and taxation, will be covered by the show's expert commentator Peter Gibbons.

"Sandhurst Club reflects the popularity of baby boomers wanting to be active and live in communities which reflect all age groups rather than move to retirement villages and it is this liveliness which is also reflected in 'Older Wiser - Feeling Younger."

Bill Laird, General Manager of Sandhurst Club said it was a great boost to the project and the community of Frankston to have a lifestyle show hosted from the area which would also involve some residents in segments.

'Older Wiser - Feeling Younger' will preview on Monday 15 June 2009 7:30 – 8 pm on Foxtel Channel 183

Media Enquiries:

Ron Smith Corporate Media Communications Links Living Limited Mobile: 0417 329 201